WIFE SHOT WHILE HUNG HERSELF AIDING HUSBAND TO A TRANSMOM

Mrs. Herman Schiller Receives Serious Wound.

FRED KRAMER IS ARRESTED

THE MEN WERE FIGHTING WHEN THE SHOT WAS FIRED.

Each Accuses the Other—Little Rudolph Found the Revolver and Handed It to His Father.

Mrs. Louisa Schiller was accidentally shot at her home, 2421 South Third street, Monday night while acting as a peacemaker in a fierce fight between her husband, Herman, and Fred Kramer of 1512 Menard street. Fearing that Kramer would kill her husband with the revolver, the woman rushed between the combatants and received a bullet in her left leg.

The ball shattered the bone. Physicians say that amputation must follow, and that the nature of the wound indicates a serious result. Kramer is locked up at the Wyoming Street Police Station. He says that Schiller ler fired the shot. Schiller says that Kramer fired at him. Mrs. Schiller identified Kramer as the man who held the revolver when it was discharged.

Both men agree that the fight, preceding the shooting, was fierce. It began at 11 o'clock when Kramer, who drove Schiller's huckster wagon, came to supper. Words passed and Kramer rushed at his employer. Schiller retreated from the kitchen to the bedroom. "Get my gun, quick, quick," he cried.

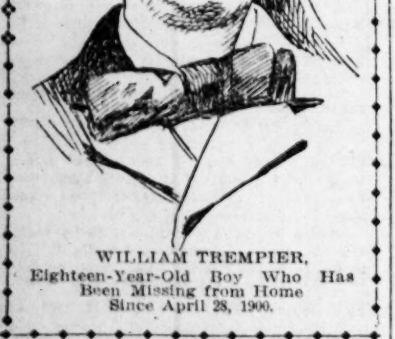

Rudolph, his 6-year-old boy, plunged under the bureau for the pistol. He caught the weapon in both his chubby hands and ran to his papa. Kramer was at his elbow. Both men were striding wildly. Mrs. Schiller ran into the room. She saw that Kramer was forcing her husband to the wall. She rushed to the aid of the maddened man who was her baby boy. She implored the men to stop. Rudolph was shoved aside. Clinging her husband Mrs. Schiller shielded his body with her own. The weapon was discharged. Mrs. Schiller sank to the floor, pulling Schiller down. Kramer ran from the room. Schiller knelt, begging his wife to speak.

Emma and Willie, two older children, were screaming. Little Rudolph, who had found the pistol, stood wondering what it all meant. He cried when the police handcuffed his father and led him away.

Mrs. Schiller soon regained consciousness. Dr. Fulton of 2401 South Broadway found that the ball had shattered the bone below the left kneecap. He said the injury was extremely serious.

The police found Kramer and he was handcuffed to Schiller and both men were taken before the coroner. Mrs. Schiller identified Kramer as the man who held the pistol when she was shot. Schiller was released.

WISHES TO FIND HER SON.
Mrs. Tremper Has Not Heard From Him for Months.

MRS. JOHN TREMPER.

Mrs. John Tremper of 1887 South Third street is trying to find her son, William, aged 15 years, who has been missing from his home since April 23, 1900. Young Tremper disappeared without giving his parents any intimation that he did not intend to return. He was last heard from at Chicago last summer.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.
WARMER.

For St. Louis and vicinity—Fair Tuesday night and Wednesday; warmer Wednesday. Missouri—Fair Tuesday night and Wednesday; warmer Wednesday and in northwest portion Tuesday night. Illinois—Fair Tuesday night and Wednesday; rising temperature Wednesday.

Mrs. Meldmann Ended Life Without Apparent Cause.

USED A TOWEL AS ROPE.

BODY WAS FOUND BY HER YOUNG SON.

He Was the Last Person Who Saw Her Alive, Receiving an Affectionate Kiss as He Left Her for School.

Mrs. Emma Meldmann, aged 35 years, wife of Frank Meldmann, 322 South Jefferson avenue, was found hanging by a carefully knotted towel from the transom of her sleeping room at noon Tuesday by her 12-year-old son, Oliver, who had gone home for lunch.

The motive for the deed has not yet been made apparent, but the manner in which the towel was tied about her neck indicated that she had undertaken it with great deliberation.

The last person who saw her alive was her son, whom she kissed affectionately, but without betraying extraordinary emotion, as she told him good-bye shortly before 9 o'clock in the morning and sent him to his school duties.

STREET MAKING SUSPENDED

Board of Public Improvements Denies Reconstruction Petition Because City Can't Pay Its Portion.

Because the city is without funds to pay its portion of street improvement costs, the board of public improvements Tuesday morning reduced further consideration of petitions for reconstruction from the proper brick and asphalt streets.

"The city has not the money to do the necessary grading," said Street Commissioner Vazzalman in recommending that the measures be dropped. "In many of the cases the property owners want macadam pavement, and might not be willing to pay for anything better. Perhaps, by the time the city has the money to pay its portion, the people will be ready to petition for brick and asphalt streets."

The streets, which will remain unimproved as a result of the board's action, are the following: Old Manchester road, between Ivanhoe avenue and the city limits; Barry, between Sarah and Erie; Fargo, between West and Walton; Arsenal, between Spring and Gustine; Maple, between Goodfellow and Holladay; Kimberly, between Taylor and Marcus; Grand, between Haska and Meramec; Virginia, between Arsenal and Pottawatomie; Grand, between Sarah and Fayette; Prather, between Manchester and Mitchell; Michigan, between Duane and Huron; Taylor, third, between Mallinckrodt and Farrar; Labadie, between Lambdin and Newstead; California, between Caroline and Clayton; Pennsylvania, between Wyoming and Juniper; Nagel, between Michigan and Virginia; Delmar, between Clara and city limits; Montgomery, between Elliot and Glasgow; Texas, between Cherokee and Arsenal; Grand, between Chippewa and Miami; Grove, between Bailey and Kosciusko; York, between Salisbury and Newhouse; Newhouse, between Twenty-fifth and West; Nebraska, between Gravois and Magdolna; between Sidney and Shenandoah; Simple, between La Salle and North Market; Pennsylvania, between Potomac and Cherokee; Oregon, between Utah and Wyoming; Josephine, between La Salle and Cherokee; Connecticut, between Russell and Oak Hill; McCausland, between Wise and Clayton; and Oakland, between Clayton and McCausland.

COLLAR AND SHIRT COMBINE

Company With $20,000,000 Capital Will Include Nearly All of the Troy, N. Y., Manufacturers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The long-talked-of syndicate of Troy, N. Y., collar, cuff and shirt wholesale houses is now regarded as a certainty by the manufacturers concerned. No outside capital will be required to swing the combination, the names of which will probably be the American Collar, Cuff and Shirt Co. Under the exception of the following firms, every well-known house in the trade having factories at Troy will be identical with the new order of things: Earl & Wilson, The William Barlow Co., E. J. Corlies, Con & Co., and English & Straub.

The interests of those represented in the deal aggregate $20,000,000. Instead of having individual offices in the different cities, a single clearing house will be established in each market covering the general business.

ROBBED BY FOUR FOOTPADS.

William Hegel Arrested and Identified by Elsiea English.

Elsiea English, 1117 Armstrong avenue, almost under the electric lights on Nineteenth, near Olive, at 10:45 o'clock Monday evening, was robbed of $40 by four men. William Hegel, alias "Denver Billy," was captured by Officers Carr and Stender. The remaining three escaped. A warrant has been issued against Hegel. English, a conductor on the Chouteau avenue division of the transit company, had just come out of a saloon on the corner of Nineteenth and Olive streets. He was followed by four men, who are supposed to have seen him exhibit a roll of bills in paying for a drink. He had taken but a few steps north on Nineteenth street when he was assaulted from behind. English drew his revolver, but was unable to aim at his opponents. He fired in the air, summoning the officers. He positively identifies Hegel.

KILLIAN WAS REINSTATED.

Acting Chief Smith's Investigation Acquitted Him of Misconduct.

Detective Lee Killian was reinstated as an officer in the detective bureau by Assistant Chief of Detectives Smith Tuesday morning when he reported at police headquarters.

This action was the result of an investigation of the charges under which Chief Smith suspended Killian Monday, following his arrest in the violation of Joseph O'Connell at 4701 Easton avenue. Killian was taken into custody by Sergt. King of the Lower Station on the complaint of O'Connell, who declared that Killian was drunk and started a fight in the saloon. Chief Smith was satisfied that Killian was not drunk as represented.

ICE GORGE AT BRIDGE STOPS BOATS

VIEW OF ICE GORGE NEAR EADS BRIDGE TUESDAY MORNING.

An ice gorge in the river interfered with the free passage of boats Monday morning, but it broke of its own accord about 11 o'clock, leaving great cakes of ice floating in the stream.

Some of the ferryboats have tied up until the ice floats on down the stream, as there is great danger to the lighter craft in making way through the floating cakes.

Below the Eads bridge to Carondelet, for a time Monday morning, the ice was nearly solid in the river. Wharfs are all closed and none of the large river steamers are running. The Chester came in Monday and is tied up at the foot of Vine street awaiting a clearing.

Dr. Hyatt, the weather observer, said to the Post-Dispatch Tuesday morning: "Well, I think we will have warmer weather now. There is a high barometer over the upper Mississippi Valley and Central Rocky Mountain districts, and it is lowest over the North Atlantic states and the Northern Rocky Mountain slope. It will be from 15 to 25 degrees warmer. It will be cool Tuesday night, however. The thermometer was 32 at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, but was only 18 this morning. It may be cloudy Wednesday."

HURLED THROUGH A BRICK WALL

But Dennis Haley Lives to Tell the Story.

WAS STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

WALL WAS 12 INCHES THICK AND SOLID.

Man and Wagon Tore a Hole Through It Ten Feet Square, but Dr. Metter Says He Will Recover.

Dennis Haley, driver for the Charter Oak Range Co., was hurled through a brick wall by a Missouri Pacific freight train Tuesday morning, and lives.

His wagon, which was reduced to splinters, lies partly inside and part outside of 101 Poplar street.

Haley's body and the wagon tore a hole 12 feet square through the 12-inch wall, and the man was found buried under bricks, plaster and timbers inside the building.

He was apparently dead when the ambulance arrived, but revived on reaching the City Hospital, and Dr. Metter says his chances for recovery are good. His worst injury is a fracture of the left thigh.

Haley told the Post-Dispatch that he had just started out for his day's work, and had driven down the alley between Poplar and Spruce and Main and Second streets. "I didn't see a watchman or hear the train until my horses were on the track," he said.

"Then I tried to pull up and back out of the way. The ground was slippery and the horses couldn't back. There wasn't room to turn, so I gave the horses a cut, hoping they would get out of the way. That's all I know."

Beside the fracture, which he witnessed the accident, said the train was running at high speed and struck the wagon near the front end, swinging it around.

"I saw the man's body strike the wall," he said, and though he would surely be crushed. Then I ran up and found he had gone through the wall."

Haley is 26 years old, single and lives with his parents at 208 North Eleventh street.

Today the nation pauses in the rush for power and gain To contemplate the wisdom of her precious martyr slain— The wisdom of her forest-child, who rose to heights sublime, Whose name and fame shall perish not, nor heed the weight of time.

Exponent he of Righteousness and herald of the Truth Which blooms immortal, clothed by God in tender love and ruth. What signifies the fleeting fame, what signifies the greed Of petty men, compared with him who met the nation's need? W. L. C.

Chinese Minister Says He Did Not Say He Approved of Whites and Blacks Intermarrying.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—During the course of the banquet of the Sino Association of America at Delmonico's last night the Chinese minister, Wu Tingfang, who was one of the guests of honor, left his seat and walked upstairs to the table at which the newspaper men sat. He said: "I am being quoted by interviewers. You New York newspaper men are all right, but you make my meaning in my speeches and letters too deep. Many quotations are incorrect. Some are so absurd that I do not want to deny them. It seems to have been received with credence. I refer to the interview that made me say that I favored miscegenation."

"I was wrongly quoted. I did not say I favored miscegenation in a general sense. I was on a train to St. Louis and a reporter told me of a lynching. We had some conversation which led to miscegenation. I told him that the children of white and Chinese parents or Caucasian and Chinese parents made the brightest children. I said we had no negroes in China and if we had it would be good to mix the races there, but in this country it was a question which Americans must decide for themselves. I did not say I favored miscegenation here."

CITY DEMOCRATS MEET

AT WEST END COLISEUM

IN THEIR CONVENTION

ROLLA D. WELLS, (Who was victorious in the primary election for the mayoralty Monday.)

Thuggas E. Barrett, one of the Tinker managers, said at noon Tuesday in the West End Coliseum that Mr. Tinker's name would not be placed before the convention.

The Democratic city convention met at 11:45 o'clock Tuesday morning in the West End Coliseum. Chairman B. P. Taate of the city central committee called the convention to order and announced the temporary organization, as follows:

W. H. Swift, temporary chairman; John T. Fitzsimmons, temporary secretary. Assistant secretaries—O. P. Mallard, W. P. Lightholder, William Corcoran. Peter Walsh, sergeant-at-arms.

Assistant sergeants-at-arms—John J. Brennan, Jerry Sheehan, Tom Keene, J. P. O'Gorman, Ed Morrissey, Richard West, Len Thornhill, C. A. Goodwin, W. Keogh, Jos. Colar, T. L. O'Sullivan, Anton Von Brun, Patrick McMahon, Tom H. Quinn, Charles Haughton, A. B. Alexander.

The roll of delegates was called and all not regularly elected or contestants were asked to step outside the railing.

The leaders met late Monday night, after the returns from the primary were in and the following slate is said to have been agreed upon:

Mayor—Rolla Wells.

President of the Council—A. B. Ewing.

Comptroller—William Druhe.

Walter Brennan, James P. O'Gorman, Harry B. Hawes, Michael Haughey, John J. Schulte, Festus J. Wade.

The convention took a recess until 2 o'clock, while the committees were in session.

FOUGHT AT POLLING PLACE

Riot Followed Attempt of Negroes to Vote at Primary.

A dispute over allowing a party of negroes to vote at the Democratic primary led to a general fight around the polling place in the Second district of the Fourth ward, at Twelfth and Linden streets, at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon during the progress of which some one stole the ballot box.

Many shots were fired, and it was only after Capt. Kieley, with 21 men, armed with riot guns, arrived on the scene that order was restored.

The casualties were: Sergt. Quinlivan, shot in right leg; George Monroe of 77 North Sixteenth street, shot in right arm; Fred Jones of 23 Targe street, shot in left leg. Monroe and Jones are negroes.

Sergt. Quinlivan's wound is said to be serious. Monk Ross, a negro, was arrested and charged with the shooting. The sergeant was not hurt.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—Kraenzlein, Pennsylvania native, former college athlete, may return to the field and track again. The one thing that deters him is his previous announcement that he would never compete again. Kraenzlein is but 25 years old. That he would retire from athletics at the zenith of his glory is not surprising to those who know him. Many have attempted to persuade him to return to athletic events again, but he has answered a deaf ear to their entreaties. The recent announcement that he would compete again, however, has almost broken his resolution. He is being urged to enter the Pennsylvania Athletic Union broad jump competition in Harrisburg this month.

Manager Brady Announces That If Injunction Is Granted Fight Will Not Take Place.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CINCINNATI, Feb. 12.—Just what Judge Hollister means by holding up his decision

It is regarded as probable that the injunction will be granted. In that event no effort will be made to have the fight take place in defiance of the court's order. Manager Brady confirms this statement.

"An adverse decision by the court," he said, "will practically end the fight so far as Cincinnati is concerned."

"Will the contest take place anywhere else?"

"That is hard to answer. It will be impossible to transfer it just now, but it will presumably occur somewhere at some time, probably in the West."

"Will it not cross the bridge till we come to it?"

Frank Benson lost Monday night's thoroughbred tournament game by the narrow margin of one point. Lawless, the champion, was a consistent and courageous player, but Benson was a more rapid and accurate player. In the last few innings of the game he was a real winner for him. Both men averaged 60 and each had a high run of five to his credit.
